

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

College Teaching. Studies in Methods of Teaching in the College. Edited by PAUL KLAPPER with an Introduction by N. M. Butler. Yonkers-on-Hudson, New York, World Book Co., 1920. 16 + 583 pp.

This book contains twenty-eight chapters by as many different authors. Chapter VIII (pages 161-182) on "The Teaching of Mathematics" is by G. A. MILLER. The sub-headings of the chapter are as follows: Recent changes and some of their sources; Influence of researches in mathematics on methods of teaching; Range of subjects and preparation of students; Variety of college courses in mathematics; History of college mathematics; Relation of mathematics in secondary school and college; Aims of college mathematics: methods of teaching; Advanced work in college mathematics; Mathematics and technical education; Preparation of the college teacher of mathematics; The mathematical text-book.

The Teaching of Arithmetic. By JOHN C. STONE. Chicago, Benj. H. Sanborn & Company, 1918. 262 pp. Price $1.32.

This presents for teachers, supervisors, and those preparing to teach, "a discussion of the aims and purposes of a course in arithmetic and of the methods of presenting each topic that should find a place in our elementary schools." The final chapter, on "Measuring results," gives an account of the standard arithmetic tests developed during the last twenty years.

NOTES.

In T. ZIEHEN, Lehrbuch der Logik auf positivistischer Grundlage mit Berücksichtigung der Geschichte der Logik, (Bonn, A. Marucs & E. Webers Verlag, 1920), are discussed: "Die mathematische (symbolistische) Logik" pp. 227-236 including a bibliography of about 35 authors; "Mathematische Grundlegung der Logik," pp. 410-416.

A new list of the members of the Mathematical Association (England) was published in April, 1920. It contains the names of 9 "honorary members," of 747 "ordinary members," and of 83 "associates" of the London, Yorkshire, North Wales, and Sydney (New South Wales) Branches.
